A HOMEcoming HISTORY

October 12, 1984, was a cool foggy night but that was unimportant as the game was against Whitko and the NorthWood Panthers needed the victory to remain in the play-offs. Various Homecoming activities inspired the players to do their best to "Whomp" Whitko. First, there was the voting for Homecoming queen, Carey Shifflett, and her court. Then, on the Tuesday night before the big day, the girls' Powder Puff teams took the field where the senior girls played for a victory. For the first time, golfcarts were decorated and judged in place of the usual sheet-decorating contest. This competition was also won by the seniors. These golfcarts were then used to drive the queen candidates and attendants to their places for the coronation.

Senior Todd Crist escorts Carey Shifflett off the field soon after she is announced the 1984-85 Homecoming Queen.

Homecoming queen, Deb Slabaugh, crowns the new reigning queen, Carey Shifflett.

Freshman attendant Lori Whitstone is helped out of the golfcart by her escort, Andy Stump.

Carey is congratulated by her friends following the coronation ceremonies.

Junior Stephanie Swanson is escorted by Kirk Beer.

WE HAVE TALENT...

Dawning Generation members sport the fifties look as they perform the number "My Music."

A "nerd", also Cyle Weldy, walks on stage to perform a tuba duet with his partner, Gary Mullett.

The annual all-school variety show was a great success again this year. Many students displayed their talents in numerous ways. They sang, acted, and played instruments. There were bands, solos, and group performances, all in a wide variety of settings and situations. Some of the acts included such sights as pillow people, a maniac tricyclist, and one act even included a mysterious stripper. As is the case every year, NorthWood students once again proved that they do indeed have talent.

Gary Mullett, Cyle Weldy, and James Gardner blow the audience away with their rendition of Van Halen's "Jump."

EmCees for the 1984-85 Panthers On Parade were seniors Stephen Beson and Gary Mullett.

D.C. members Steph Swanson, Susan Graber, Lisa Firestone, and Kelley Eby waddle off-stage following the "little white hen," Thad Grove.

Senior girls Lenina Smith, Tammy Eby, Marla Anglemeyer, and Lisa Hahn sing a medley of Beach Boy hits.

Jessica Billey delights the audience with a violin solo.

THE MIRACLE WORKER

The fall play this year was a stirring dramatization of the real-life story of Helen Keller, who was both blind and mute. Only her teacher, Annie Sullivan, believed Helen could actually communicate with the world. After many disappointing attempts, Annie finally reaches Helen. Annie Sullivan was portrayed by Steph Swanson, and Anne Reed portrayed Helen Keller. Other characters included Captain Keller, Keith Eby; Kate Keller, Lisa Hahn; James Keller, Chris Farmwald; and Aunt Ev, Mary Jane McPheeters. The other members were Viney, Tish Kollever; Dr. Anagnos, Mike Lloyd; Percy, Kevin Eyer; Martha, Lisa Replogle; and the servant, Steph Gonzales. The blind school consisted of six blind girls; Lisa Firestone, Judy Johnson, Teresa Ramer Jennifer Weaver, Dawn Phipps, and Erica Klopfenstein.

Lisa Firestone prepares for the performance.

An opening scene in the dining room of the Keller homestead.

Helen grasps the meaning of her first word, water.

Dr. Anagnos lectures Annie before she leaves the blind school.

Helen learns about the world through her fingers.

The actors give their final bows before the curtain finally closes.

THE LOOK OF '85

Parachute pants were the look for senior Jim Beck.

Checked, striped, and half and half jeans were in for '85. Marla Anglemeyer, Lisa Firestone, Missy Sterling, Heidi Stuart, and Libby Hartman show off these styles.

Chris Dorsey, Trisha Smith, Paul Yoder, Angie Stouder, and Melanie Hess like the style and versatility of their jean jackets.

Kat tails and mousèd-up hair were all the rage, especially for Bob Juarez, Amy Randolf, Shannon Hoffer, Wendy Fletcher, Cindy Cammaron, and Devon Weddy.

Some popular styles of winter coats are worn by Jennifer Weaver, Lisa Hahn, Patty Tokarcik, Shelley Carter, and Cyndi Davis.

Seniors Maria Anglemeyer, Shana Hand, Lisa Hahn, Shelly Resker, and Chris Dorsey wear the ever-popular jeans.

THE 1984 ELECTION

While there were some 200 announced candidates for the White House in 1984, only a few received much public attention.

Some of the candidates were running just for fun, while others were very serious. Gus Hall, Communist; Larry "Bozo the Clown" Harmon; David Bergland, Libertarian; and Sonia Johnson, Citizen's Party were only a few of the lesser known candidates.

In the 1984 election, Reverend Jesse Jackson was the first black candidate for presidency. He was on the Democratic ticket along with opposers Gary Hart and Walter F. Mondale.

The Democratic party nominated former Vice President "Fritz" Mondale of Minnesota for president. Mondale, in a historic move, chose a woman, Representative Geraldine Ferraro of New York to run with him as candidate for vice president.

The Republican party was represented by President Ronald Reagan with Vice President George Bush as his running mate.

Issues such as the nuclear freeze, abortion, and religion were debated on during the campaigns. After several debates between both the presidential and vice presidential candidates and much campaigning, 73 year old Ronald Reagan won in a landslide election. He is the oldest President ever to be elected.

NORTH CENTRAL STUDY

This school year the students at NorthWood High School have participated in the completing of several surveys to help evaluate the school.

The surveys were completed for the North Central Crediting Association.

This association is made up of high schools and colleges to set standards, policies, and to evaluate its members. This association consists of teachers, superintendents, and people from colleges known as teams.

NorthWood is one of these members and is now in what is called Phase I or Self-Study. The school is evaluated according to its rules and the process will last for one year.

The second step is the Visitation Phase. This is when team comes to visit the school and look over the work being done. They then make a report stating whether or not the school is doing what is required. The school is evaluated on the heat, football field, grounds, and water fountains, just to name a few items. The "team" of educators will visit NorthWood December 12, 1985.

The third and final phase is a follow-up of what the school hopes to do to make improvements.

By being evaluated a school is given a ranking. In 1971 NorthWood ranked first class.

To be ranked first class a school must meet certain standards. For example, one standard requires that there must be one guidance counselor for every 300 students. Schools also have to meet standards required by their own school board.

Getting this program in gear takes much work and dedication by the committees and the chairperson, Miss Munsell.

49ers WIN SUPERBOWL

Sunday, January 20 was the day for the battle of the quarterbacks, Joe Montana and Danny Morino, and their teams, the San Francisco 49ers and the Miami Dolphins.

Montana and his team were the favorites going into the battle. He boasts six years of professional experience, while Marino has had only two and is only twenty-three years old.

Both teams played well but San Francisco managed to pull through as expected. They won with a final score of 38-16.

What made you decide to come to school in America?

"For a better and higher education. Also to see how the normal American spends his life."

What do you hope to accomplish by getting part of your education in America?

"You are better accepted to jobs back home if you have a diploma from somewhere else, mainly the states."

How does NorthWood compare with your other school?

"It's four times bigger in building size, but with the same amount of students. There are more classes and subjects to choose from and a higher level of education."

What made you decide to come to school in America?

"I wanted to get to know a different culture with different people. Also America is the country everybody talks about. Since I was a little kid I admired America and the people who came here several hundred years ago."

How does NorthWood compare with your other school?

"I wasn't used to go to school in the afternoon and have lunch in the school. Also to elect my own classes was new for me. In Germany you are told until the 11th grade what classes you have to take. Also the way tests are given . . . We have essay tests all the time."

In the future, Henrik hopes "to go to college, study 2 or 3 languages, and become in interpreter."

How does NorthWood compare with your other school?

"NorthWood is bigger than my last school (in Spain). It's a lot more fun too. I like a lot the people and teachers."

What do you hope to accomplish by getting part of your education in America?

"I think this is going to be very good to me. I've already learned a lot and I'm going to learn more. I wish to speak English very good, too."

What are your plans for the future?

"I will go to college in the states. Probably in California but right now I'm not positive what I'm going to do. I'm just sure of one thing. I will come back to the states later."

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN

Larry, Trevor Paulus; and Anne, Stephanie Swanson; have fun on their first date.

NorthWood Drama Club's spring presentation was the musical "Cheaper By The Dozen," made popular in the movie version which starred Lucille Ball.

The story is one of both humor and many real life feelings as portrayed by the Gilbreth family. The twelve children, in different age groups, are pressured by their father to always be efficient and brilliant, to the point that they are not permitted to have a life of their own. Resulting from this are many conflicts, dealing mainly with dress, dating, and school. These conflicts are eventually resolved and the play ends with the family learning to work together to keep things running smoothly while their father is away on a business trip.

Frank, Keith Eby; shows the younger generation how to conserve energy by doing a "two-step."

The girls are greeted by their dates for the school dance.

The Gilbreths continually keep their eyes on their daughters, even while dancing themselves.

"Dad" Gilbreth has his daughter demonstrate her efficiency in case of fire to the school tester, Miss Brill.

Stephanie Swanson, Lisa Replogle, and Shelley Spurgeon enjoy pre-show activities, such as make-up application.

The Gilbreth family is aghast at Anne's announcement that she intends to wear a teddy.

A NEW QUEEN REIGNS

It was the moment everyone had been waiting for—the coronation of the 1985 Sweetheart King and Queen. This year's king candidates were Courtney Blosser, Ron Schmucker, and Jason Wagner. The queen candidates were Suzanne Conrad, Kami Gessinger, and Anne Reed. The first name was read, it was Courtney Blosser for king. Kami Gessinger was then announced the new reigning queen.

The excitement of the evening continued as NorthWood went on to beat rival Goshen. A dance followed in the North surge to complete the evening.

Lise Hahn, freshman representative, chose Eric Grove as her escort.

SOUNDSATIONS

The date was March 8. The time 7:30. The place the NorthWood High School Auditorium. The event Soundsations. Featuring Dawning Generation and Jazz Band, Soundsations this year was a very enjoyable event and drew a larger than average crowd.

D.G. performed such numbers as "Just people," Memory, "a song from the musical "Cats", "And All That Jazz," and "I'm a New Creation," an upbeat gospel number. Also performing for D.G. was a girl's quartet consisting of Marla Anglemyer, Tammy Eby, Lisa Hahn, and Carey Shifflett who sang "Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy," an Andrew's Sisters song.

Jazz Band played several popular pieces, including the theme song from Hill Street Blues, the Pointer Sister's song "I'm So Excited," and "Bandstand Boogie," the American Bandstand song. A percussion ensemble performed one number and the rhythm section performed two, one of which was "Let's Go Crazy."

ALMOST PARADISE

The scene of the 1984-85 Junior-Senior prom, "Almost Paradise," was Amish Acres. The prom meal was served at 7:30 and consisted of roast beef, turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, dressing, and green beans. Dessert was served in the form of cookies and punch during the after dinner dance.

Following the completion of the prom, students returned to the school for an after-prom. Music was provided by the U-93 Dance Machine. The cafeteria was decorated in a Hawaiian scheme with palm trees and coconuts. There was also a beach scene for pictures. Students attending the afterprom were greeted at the entrance and given leis to wear for the evening. The after-prom movie was "The Last Starfighter."

Ladies and Gentlemen, the class of 1985

The big moment finally arrived, May 24, 1985, was the date, the time, 7:30 p.m., and the event, NorthWood High School commencement. One hundred and sixty students were awarded their diplomas. Class speakers, Lisa Hahn and Stephen Besson challenged the class with winning their tomorrows and the responsibilities of life after high school.

Class colors were royal blue and pale yellow. The class motto was, "Yesterday is not our to recover, but tomorrow is ours to win or lose." A yellow rose was chosen as the class flower.

SPORTS

THE YEAR OF

1984 was a year to remember as the Panthers fought their way through many difficult games and ended the season as regional champs. They then met West Lafayette for the semi-state battle at West Lafayette. This was also very close as the Panthers lost by only one point with a score of 12-13.

The team was loyally supported by many enthusiastic fans throughout the entire season, filling the stands at almost every game.

RED SLAM HAS

If you've ever heard of "Murphy's Law," you can understand a little of what the 1984 Red Slam encountered this season. Yet they pulled together as a team with Coach Schrock to encourage each other and overcome the many setbacks they ran into.

Because of an ineligibility rule, the Red Slam had to forfeit some of their hard earned wins - to knock them out of competition for the NLC title. Yet they came back fighting for the remainder of the season.

Their season began with winning the Memorial tourney - and ended with a close loss to Wawasee in sectionals - but there were many tough exciting matches in between that helped the Red Slam earn the respect of many area teams and coaches.

TENNIS, ANYONE?

The Panther tennis team advanced to sectionals this year, defeating Elkhart Memorial but losing to Concord in the semi-finals of sectionals. Ron Trocchio was the No. 1 single and also MVP. Rod Schmucker and Hanh Huynh played No. 1 doubles. The most improved player was Phet Inthivong and the Mental Attitude Award went to Chris Sterling. The Varsity finished their season with 10 wins and 6 losses. The JV record was 8 wins, 5 losses, and one tie.

Coach Lechlitner and Dave Cutchin show that there's more to cross-country than just running.

The 1984-85 Cross-Country team was a very young team, with only one senior, Chris Williams. This did present some difficulty as they faced many older and more experienced teams.

Through the season they trained very diligently, running up to eight miles a day. Other days they trained at Harrison Hill or ran sprints. Their hard work paid off as Barb Rohrer set a new school record in the 3,000 meter run and as the team placed fifth in the conference.

Award winners for the year were Tim Schrock, Most Improved; and Dave Kendall, Most Valuable Runner. The team is looking forward to next year when all but one will be returning.

Chris Williams shows his excellent running form as he strides toward the finish.

Standing: Manager Janet Stringfellow, Tasha Lechlightner, Cami Bethel, Angie Whetstone, Coach Karns, Kristi Baker, Cindy Davis, Abbey Lelle, Manager Suzie Ratliff.

The Girl's Swimming team had a very exciting and valuable season. New school records were set by the girls in eight of eleven events and they had the best season they've ever had with a record of 5-10.

Abby Lelle was named Most Valuable swimmer. She holds the record in four events, the 50 and 100 Freestyle, Medley Relay, and Free Relay. Abby also placed at Conference and Sectional Competition.

The diving competition is tough as Coach Karns and the other judges hold up their evaluation of the diver.

Shelly Carter shows her emotions as the competition gets intense.

Other record holders are Kristi Baker; 200 Freestyle, 100 Fly, 500 Free, Medley and Free Relay; Cami Bethel in diving; Heidi Wagar in 100 Backstroke; Lisa Phipps in Medley Relay; and Tonya Ramer and Missy Speicher in Free Relay.

THERE'S NO STOPPING US

There's just no stopping the Seniors. In the first round of this year's battle the Seniors played the freshmen and defeated them. Then in the second round the Sophomores had a little more trouble with the juniors, but still managed to defeat the Juniors, going into 4 overtimes.

The last round was between the Sophomores and the Seniors. But the seniors finally stepped into the winners circle after a deserved victory over the Sophomores, this team's third annual victory.

LADY PANTHERS ARE SUCCESSFUL

The 1985 season was very successful for the girl's basketball team. Their season record was 14 wins and 6 losses. It was also a season of accomplishment for Coach Neff, who achieved his 100th win with the defeat of LaSalle. Captains for the team were Shana Hand and Kami Gessinger.

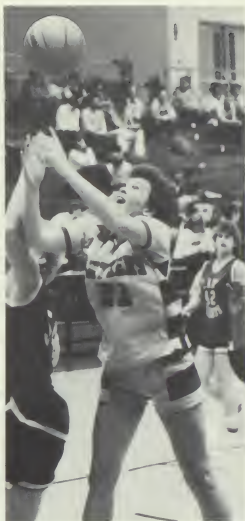

Most Valuable Player for the season was Kami Gessinger. Other awards went to Missy Beck, Best Defensive Player; Marla Anglemeyer, Best Mental Attitude; and Chris Stringfellow for Free Throw Shooting.

SEASON OF SURPRISES

Brad Price ripe through the paper to make his way onto the court.

The 1984-85 basketball season was one of ups and downs. After a slow start, Coach Phil Lechlitner's Panthers came on strong, defeating Elkhart Central and winning the Goshen Holiday Tourney. Fifth-year senior Todd Crist returned to the team in January and led the Panthers to a strong finish. The team's record ended at 9 wins and 12 losses. Junior Scott Crist picked up where his brother Todd left off, being the leading scorer and rebounder. He was also voted the Most Valuable Player. Senior co-captains Mike Yoder and Shannon Murphy won the Mental Attitude and Defensive awards, with honors. Rex Hochstedler won the Free-Throw award with a superior 91% average.

The Boy's swimming team completed a successful season this year with many records being set. All on the team spent many long hours practicing to prepare for competition. Several members, however, were awarded special honors for their achievements. Brian Flora received the Most Valuable Swimmer award and the co-captain award, which was also given to John Wessler. The Most Valuable Diver award went to Mike Gongwer, Most Improved Swimmer to Scott Nickerson, and the Mental Attitude award was given to Dan Berger.

The girls' track team was greatly improved from last year, both in points and record. One of the reasons for this was the many spirit-raising activities held before meets. These were initiated by first year coach Sherry Burkholder.

There was one very special meet during the season. The meet was against East Noble on May 2 and was dedicated to the memory of former teammates Tina and Tammy Cassel.

Award winners were Carrie Trocchio, Track MVP; Jodi Ketcham, Field MVP; Patty Tokarcik, Captain; Angie Whetstone, Most Outstanding; and Becky Morin, Most Improved.

CHEERLEADING

Cheerleading is not all fun and games. Many hours of hard work and dedication are spent throughout the year to help support the team and boost school spirit.

Cheerleading is a year-round sport that begins in the summer and continues through March. During the summer, the JV and Varsity squads attended cheerleading camp at Ball State University where the JV squad placed first in their division and the Varsity was first runner-up in final competition in the State Fair cheerleading competition during the summer.

Cheering is just one of the many activities cheerleaders do. Above all, cheerleaders support the team through times of discouragement as well as times of triumph.

ENHANCEMENT

FARMING AS A CAREER

Because of NorthWood being in the area that it is, agriculture is a vital area of education. Many students plan to pursue farming as a career in the future. Computers are becoming more widespread and can be very helpful to a farmer.

The art program offers many courses for creative students. These classes include: Hobby Crafts, Ceramics, Jewelry, Drawing, Painting, and Commercial Art. Near the end of the year, the students display their completed work to the school and the public at the Art Show. Much talent is shown in the many drawings, paintings, and other projects. Many ribbons are given in each phase of art. The Best of Show award went to Mike Gongwer for his drawing, "Give Us Peace, Oh Lord".

ARTISTS SHOW CREATIVITY

BUSINESS EDUCATION

Business classes have always been very popular at NorthWood. Part of the reason for this is because of the wide variety of class NorthWood offers in this field.

Besides the ever popular clerical classes, many students have chosen to take those classes which offer practical training in more diversified areas. These include salesmanship, business law, and accounting.

With the recent installment of computer training into the business department, even more students are becoming knowledgeable in these areas.

STUDY OF OTHER CULTURES

An excellent display of a studious class.

Taking a foreign language, either German or Spanish, serves to both enrich a person's view of other lifestyles as well as their own. Many students choose to take either Spanish or German to help them in college, others because they plan to travel to other countries. Whatever their reason may be, all benefit from the courses.

A highlight for many in these classes is the making of video tapes in the language they are studying. These are usually a take-off of a well-known movie, television show, or commercial which feature actors and actresses from the class.

The German I class shows enthusiasm as Mr. Brugger gives the assignment.

Michelle Clupper, Kim Preston, Karen Preston, Trisha Smith, Missy Slabaugh, and Kristi Baker show the class how to have fun, no matter what country you live in.

CONSTRUCTORS OF THE FUTURE

Corner: Brad Sterling works diligently trying to create the "impossible."

Left: John Wessler and Lee Fink have fun while measuring the well-made project.

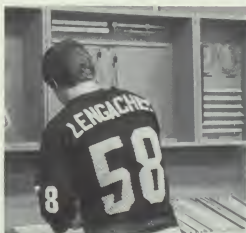

Industrial Arts classes are popular among many as students realize the importance of knowing how to draw plans for construction of various items, then knowing how to build the articles from those plans; or learning the art of fixing a car that will not run.

In graphic arts, programs and pamphlets are printed for use by the school or clubs and organizations.

Many students enroll in woods classes, where they make cabinets, gun racks, or other useful household items.

Amps, watts, and volts are all an integral part of electronics class. Knowing what these terms mean is necessary in order to work with electrical appliances and equipment.

Drafting students work with Mr. Geyer to develop working plans for various projects. Knowing these skills proves useful later in life.

BASIC SKILLS

The home-economics classes of NorthWood are designed to prepare students, both male and female, for life after high school. Training is provided in many areas, such as the familiar sewing and cooking, along with courses such as parenting, marriage and family living, child development, consumer education, interpersonal relationships, and housing.

Stressing the practical side of living, many of these classes include special assignments directly related to the subject matter of the course. For instance, one may plan a wedding, visit nursery schools, cook meals for several consecutive days, learn sewing crafts, or take care of an egg, treating it as if it were a baby. While new state requirements make it more difficult for some students to fit home-ec courses into their schedules, enrollment is still high as students realize the need for the training provided by these courses.

HARD WORK . . . BUT WORTH IT

English is a required major for all students and NorthWood offers many classes to help students fulfill this requirement.

Due to state regulations, the names of many of the English classes were changed, however, the basic subject matter remains the same. Classes are still offered in speech, literature, contemporary American authors, vocabulary and fantasy, as well as many others.

Creativity and a willingness to work are a must to succeed in English, both by teachers and students. The fact that both NW students and teachers demonstrate these qualities was once again evident this year as various publications and many successful assignments were created throughout the year.

Far Right: Mr. Allen wonders about some students in his more advanced English courses.

An option available to NorthWood students in their junior or senior year is to attend the Elkhart Area Career Center. They attend the Career Center for three or four hours a day to study a specific subject area. This counts as a major and earns 6 credits per year toward graduation.

NW students are enrolled in a number of different areas of study, including auto mechanics, photography, commercial art, cosmetology, and horticulture.

MATH... AN AROUSING SUBJECT!

One year of math is required for freshmen, however, many students choose to take much more. A background in math is especially important for those students planning on a college education, although a knowledge of mathematics is helpful in many other areas of life.

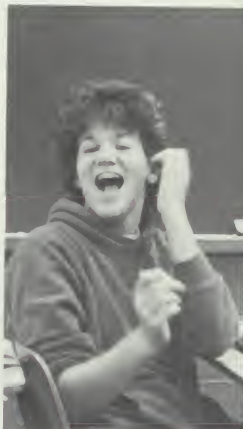

With the addition of the new IBM computers last year, Mr. Gerber now teaches several of the computer classes due to increased enrollment.

Miss Burkholder was also new in the math department this year. She took the place of Mr. Frederick who retired in the spring of 1984.

FUTURE EINSTEINS???

Northwood's science department offers classes ranging from earth science to physics, along with many others to fit a variety of interests.

All students are required to take health and biology, but many continue on and take the more advanced classes such as chemistry, physiology, and physics. Many of these students find these classes provide excellent training for a career in a health-related field.

Seniors Lisa Mattern and Jerry Kerr enjoy physics. Above: Science is a blast exclaims Angie Shook!

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical fitness is a vital part of our American society. The importance of remaining physically fit is very much emphasized as more and more persons are becoming aware of how physical activity benefits the human body.

The physical education department at NorthWood realizes the necessity of teaching students a variety of physical skills to help them retain their fitness throughout their entire lives.

In addition to the required freshman phys-ed classes, many more specialized courses are offered to interest those in the higher grades to develop skills in special areas of interest.

CULTURAL STUDIES

NorthWood students are offered a wide variety of classes in the social studies area. Above and beyond the required classes of civics, U.S. history, economics, and government, a student may choose from sociology, and psychology, world history, exploratory teaching, and several others.

Special projects in many of these classes serve as a major portion of the grade, allowing the student to demonstrate his ability in varied ways. Some of these projects are the freshman civics career paper, exploratory teachings classroom training, and general economic's housing project.

DAWNING GENERATION A NEW ERA

The 1984-85 year was full of a lot of hard work and accomplishment for the Dawning Generation. Now in its second year of enlarged format and show choir style, several high goals were set and reached. One of these was excitement and cleanliness of both choreography and voice. Another was auditioning and being accepted in the annual Plymouth High school Crimson Connection show choir competition along with nineteen other high school show choirs from Indiana.

To meet these goals, much hard work and dedication was required on the part of all members. Extra rehearsals were held early in the morning and in the evening to prepare and perfect their routines. Based on the results, it is clear the extra work was worth the effort.

Senior Carey Shifflett concentrates on her performance during a rehearsal for Soundations.

Participation and enrollment in the NorthWood choirs has always been good and this year was no exception. Both Choralaires and the girls' Freshman Choir did well in State and District competition as well as in their concert performances.

Dawning Generation also had an exceptional year, reaching several of their higher goals. D.G. members did well individually and as a group in both contests and local performances. They also auditioned and were accepted into the Plymouth Crimson Connection Invitational.

Lisa Mattern directs the band!

The 1984-85 season of the NorthWood Scarlet guard, directed by Paul Milliman, proved very successful. They placed first in nearly every marching band competition in which they took part, and brought added school spirit to the football games with a spectacular half-time show. The pep band contributed a great deal of excitement during our home basketball games as did the rhythmical percussion section. The Highlights, with their dancing and special effects, played a large role in the success of the Scarlet Guard.

The concert bands performed well while individual members very successfully took part in both District and State Solo/Ensemble contests. The very talented jazz band added pizzazz wherever it performed. And above all, every member discovered that success comes only by dedicating oneself to hard work and cooperation.

A Memorial Tribute

and

Tammy Rae Cassel

NorthWood Student Body,

Tina and Tammy Cassel were born April 26, 1967. They were killed in a car accident September 28, 1984. They were 17 years old and seniors at NorthWood.

The girls were compassionate, and considerate in their relationships with others. They are greatly missed by all who came in contact with them, especially their parents and brother, and also their grandparents, aunts, uncles, cousins and friends.

Our loss is their gain because of their top priority; their commitment to Christ.

May God be your counselor and guide as you live your lives.

THEY TEACH US WELL

The biggest project at NW this year was the North Central Evaluation in which many teachers and some students were involved. Many changes were made as some teachers taught an extra hour of class due to the teacher shortage. Mr. Lechlitrer became an Industrial Arts teacher as well as the basketball coach. Miss Vanderkolk made a big change as she became Mrs. Eichenberg. Rick Troxel and Sherry Hartman were added to the staff in Special Education. Sherry Burkholder was also added to replace Mr. Fredrick in the Math department. It was a busy but productive year.

HELPING OUT

The counselors, librarians, and athletic supervisors jobs are all geared to help the student. Counselors are available for scheduling and career planning. They also schedule college representatives to keep students informed.

The librarians help students by assisting students to find and use the appropriate resource materials for research.

Scheduling sporting events and practices is the responsibility of the athletic supervisors.

Middle Left: Rich Dodson, Pool Director; Dick Campbell, Athletic Director; and Dennis Myers, Activity Center Director, look over the schedule of upcoming events.

Delores Bigler has much work to do.

EFFICIENT SCHOOL EMPLOYEES

This year's staff worked as hard as ever to feed us, keep us clean, and to get us to and from school. The cooks did an excellent job to provide us with well balanced meals every day. There was never any dust in sight after the janitors were through cleaning the school.

The bus drivers also did a good job in both good weather and bad to make sure students made it to school safely and on time every day.

Janitors: George Wileman, Joyce Culp, Charles Miller.

Cooks: Betty Hahn, Marjorie Berkey, Marianne Ervin, Jo Ann Clem, Cindy Warren, Kuniko Kendall, Esther Forrest, Tish Gessinger.

Bus Drivers: Front: Karen Grabill, Marguerite Odmas, Doug Scheets, Dale Shively, Randy Hershberger, Steve Gongwer, Rodney Burkholder, Mike Beer, Elon Hartsell, Dale Ramer. SECRETARIES AND LAUNDRY

Just as students had to adapt to the new attendance policies of the 1984-85 school year, so did the secretaries. Different color admit slips and passes were just a reflection of the new policies.

There was also a change in the secretarial staff. Previous Treasurer Carol Bower moved to the administrative offices and Betty Cripe took her place.

Another employee deserving of recognition is laundry supervisor Peg Johnston. She keeps team uniforms and towels for phys-ed classes neat and clean.

Peg Johnston smiles as she works at keeping uniforms and towels clean.

OUR FAITHFUL LEADERS

Why isn't Mr. Bonacorsi talking into the mike?

Mr. Lehman in his usual good mood.

This year NorthWood acquired two new leaders. Mr. Lehman, Principal; and Mr. Bonacorsi, Vice Principal. They worked to enforce both old rules and new as well as to keep the school functioning properly.

Mr. Bonacorsi led the pep sessions with great enthusiasm and pep. He helped to boost our spirit as we went far in sports.

Mr. Lehman was in his usual good mood most of the year. He was seen talking to and helping students get through the day. He also showed up in classes when we were least expecting him.

Mr. Phil Lehman, Principal.

Mr. Louie Bonacorsi, Vice Principal.

UPTOWN STAFF

The school board, superintendents, and administrative secretaries are kept busy working hard to help the school run smoothly. A few changes were made in the administration. Carol Bowers switched from being the treasurer to an administrative secretary. Jerry Lelle moved to being the superintendent from the principal position and John K. Miller became the assistant superintendent.

This year's Thespians were a very active group. They produced two plays, a fall drama, "The Miracle Worker," and a spring musical, "Cheaper by the Dozen." Many also attended various workshops and plays during the year. In April, some also attended the annual Indiana Thespian convention. This gave them the opportunity to attend workshops about various aspects of the theatre as well as to see several productions by other schools in one weekend.

NWHS DRAMA CLUB

NorthWood Drama Club presented two plays to the public this year. The fall drama was "The Miracle Worker," and the spring musical was "Cheaper By The Dozen."

Besides actual performances, drama members also work on committees to build sets, find wardrobe, design and print tickets and programs, and find and bring props to complete the sets.

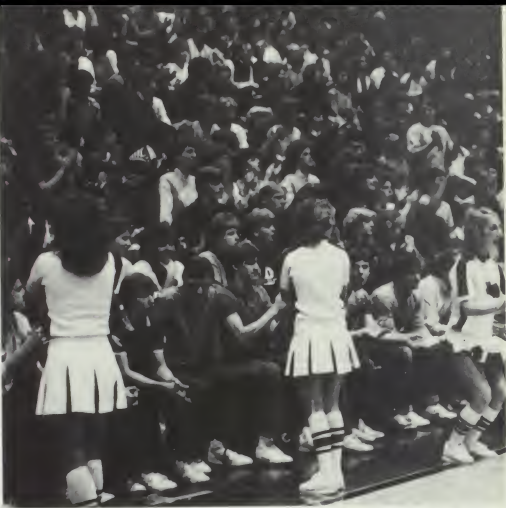

Lisa Firestone and Stephanie Swanson apply stage make-up for "The Miracle Worker."

Roxie Yoder, Renee Henschen, Kristi Baker, and Cheryl Clark enjoy their work as mat maids.

The NorthWood mat maids play an important role in boosting spirit for the wrestling season. They decorate the halls with signs cheering the grapplers to victory. At all home meets, mat maids are assigned to various jobs such as keeping statistics, video taping, and just doing whatever needs to be done to keep things running smoothly. The group is composed of fourteen girls, ranging from sophomore to senior.

FELLOWSHIP AND FUN

Every Thursday morning before school, FCA members and guests meet for a time of fellowship and fun, prayer and meditation. Different activities are planned for each week by officers and representatives. These activities range from games to devotions and relays to skits.

This group works to help students strengthen their faith through a mid-week service.

STUDENTS GET INVOLVED

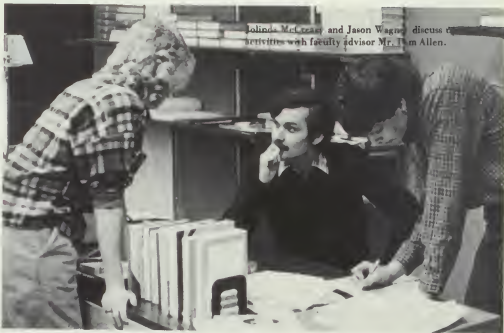

Student Council played an extremely important part of student life this year. The thirty-two members were responsible for the normal activities, including Homecoming and Sweetheart ceremonies, a penny jar contest to raise money for the Open Door organization, class elections, student exchanges, and cheerleader elections. The group also attended the IASC state convention and visited elementary schools to demonstrate the harmful effects of smoking.

This year they also sponsored a golf cart decorating contest, won by the seniors, decorated the North surge and had spirit days for Homecoming. Because of the famine in Ethiopia, the Student Council also sponsored a fund-raiser. They sold candy canes with Christmas messages attached during lunch hours and then "Santa Claus and his helpers" delivered them during school the day before Christmas vacation.

The terrible problem of drunk drivers is being fought against by the group S.A.D.D. Several student council members attended organizational meetings at other high schools. They then came back and started a S.A.D.D. Chapter at NorthWood. The officers for this very busy year were Doug Wesolek, President; Jason Wagner, Vice-President; Jolinda McCreary, Secretary; and Carey Shifflett, Reporter.

NHS members perform various services to the community. A project they undertook in the fall was to distribute "buck boards" to raise money for the American Cancer Society.

OUR FUTURE FARMERS

Back: Laureano Santos, Dave Brooks, Ron Cripe, Glen Hoover, Troy Hahn, John Bowers, Mark Ervin, Fred Jessup, Scott Clark, Dave Sheets, Bryan Hunsberger, Denise Pletcher, Christina Hunsberger, Jeff Freed.

Agriculture is very important in this region of the country. Wa-Nee schools have always realized this and provided agriculture classes as well as a FFA chapter at the high school level. This gives students interested in exploring farming as a career a chance to gain and develop valuable skills and knowledge.

Officers for FFA this year were Glen Hoover, President; Fred Jessup, Vice President; Jeff Freed, Secretary; Ron Cripe, Treasurer; Dave Sheets, Sentinel; and Bryan Hunsberger, Reporter.

STUDENTS GAIN EXPERIENCE

Every year students are used to assist the secretaries in the office and guidance department, and this year was no exception. In the guidance office, these girls helped Mrs. Loucks keep the attendance records and manned the telephone while she was away. The student receptionists in the office were in charge of incoming calls and greeting visitors. They also assisted by delivering messages to students at the end of each hour.

Cami Bethel busily works on history while at the same time takes care of her office duties.

LIBRARY WORKERS AND MEDIA CLUB

It takes the help of many students to keep the library running smoothly. This year they helped Mrs. Mathews and Mrs. Bigler in many ways. They were in charge of checking books in and out, watching the desk, and finding magazines and reference materials for students.

The media club also does a very valuable service for many teachers for classes and special activities. They are trained to use the various kinds of audio-visual equipment and then they are able to videotape and perform other services with this equipment.

Krystal Ellis utilizes her time by combining work and study.

AUDITORIUM STAFF

BEHIND-THE-SCENE-WORKERS

Each year the auditorium staff works hard to create the right atmosphere for various school and community events by producing the right lighting and sound effects. This involves much practice and thought on the part of all members of the staff with the help of the sponsor, Steve Phillips. They are in charge of sound and lighting for plays, concerts, and special performances.

Jesse Pressler, Steve Phillips, and Dale Dubbs take time out for some fun.

Steve Phillips concentrates in order to set the sound levels for Soundstations.

THE INK SLINGER

The Ink Slinger editor, Jessica Billey.

NorthWood places much emphasis on excellence in academics. One way it does this is by challenging the students to work towards a goal. For some, the literary magazine is this goal. After English papers and compositions are turned in for grading, they may be given to the staff of the Ink Slinger. They are then reviewed and may be chosen for publication.

Staff members for the 1985 Ink Slinger were Jessica Billey, Editor; Lisa Miller and Vicki Olson. Staff advisor was Sara Biltz.

LOGUE STAFF CREATES...

The 1985 Yearbook Staff worked hard to produce this year's edition of the Logue, "The Cover Story." To fit the theme, the names of the sections were changed to represent the corresponding sections of a newspaper. The type style chosen is also similar to that of a newspaper.

There were only six members on the staff this year, a decrease of two from 1984. This meant that everyone really had to work hard to complete the yearbook on time. Members of this year's staff were Lisa Hahn, Editor; Tish Kollever and Melanie Hess, Junior Editors; Helen Benedict; Kellie Hand; and Mike Lloyd, Photographer.

Top: Kellie Hand works diligently to design a lay-out.

Introducing the INNSBRUCK ...

A home engineered with excellence, for gracious living!

The new architectural concept in affordable, energy-saving housing!

The Innsbruck, a Kingsley home, is a new architectural concept in affordable, energy saving housing. It is built with 6" exterior walls (2 x 6 studs 16" on center) with Thermo-Ply sheathing and 6" of Owens-Corning Fiberglas Insulation, for an effective insulation value of over R-21! And that's only the beginning of the energy-saving features of this remarkable home.

But that's not all there is to the Innsbruck. It is spacious and rich in gracious living features and storage space. There are two-and three-bedroom floor plans; and each plan has a cathedral ceiling, large living room with a separate dining area, a big kitchen, a separate utility room, two full bathrooms and floor-to-ceiling closets. Patio doors and skylights are optional, as are many other custom-home features, all at a manufactured-home price.

There's a very good chance that someday you will buy a site-delivered home, such as the Innsbruck, a home designed by housing professionals, and engineered and built in a factory. If you like, it will come to you complete with furniture. It will certainly include all major appliances. There will also be carpeting on the floor and curtains at the windows.

We build the forerunners of your new home every day, right here in Nappanee. Fairmont Homes, Inc. is the largest manufactured housing operation at one location in the world, occupying nearly 100 acres. In little more than a decade we've become the leading builder of site-delivered homes in the Midwest. We'll be here when you're ready for a home of your own.

We believe in the future of site-delivered housing.
And we believe in you.

Serving the NorthWood
Area for Thirty Years

On the road . . . in a Kountry Aire!

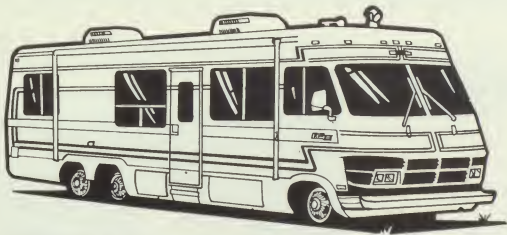

When you become a Kountry Aire owner, don't be surprised if the road beckons you . . . often.

Far away places seem closer — more attainable — when you know you can go, and stay in your own home-on-wheels.

Kountry Aire quality and dependability prevail both on the road, and when you stop for the night. We've put years of experience and research into every vehicle we build. And nice extras like exterior storage, full shower and tub, and thick, padded carpeting — all standard equipment, along with many other special touches.

The end result? Travel Trailers, Fifth Wheels, Mini Homes and Motorhomes that make being on the road . . . virtually irresistible!

Travelin' in the Kountry Aire . . . Naturally!

1985 . . . IN THE NEWS

The 1985 Logue Staff and I have worked hard to once again produce a yearbook of the quality NorthWood deserves. This year has been both full of excitement and change. The Black Crunch advanced to semi-state in the AA high school football play-offs. We once again adjusted to a change of administration as Mr. Lehman became principal and Mr. Bonacorsi took on the position of vice-principal. Another highlight of the 1984-85 school year was the NorthCentral Evaluation of the school system. Many rules, regulations, and standards were evaluated and new policies will be formed based on the results of this evaluation. These are only a few of the many events that took place here at NorthWood this year. I hope, as you look through the pages of "The Cover Story," that you find it easy to remember all the events of the past school year.

I'd like to extend my thanks to everyone who helped with the yearbook in any way. Your help was greatly appreciated. My special thanks go to Mrs. Korenstra, Logue Staff advisor; Bud Miner, who is responsible for all the album photos, color pictures, sports candids, and many other shots; administration, for allowing us to schedule many group pictures during the school day; and the rest of the staff, Helen Benedict, Tish Kollever, Melanie Hess, Kellie Hand, and Mike Lloyd for all the work they did over the year.

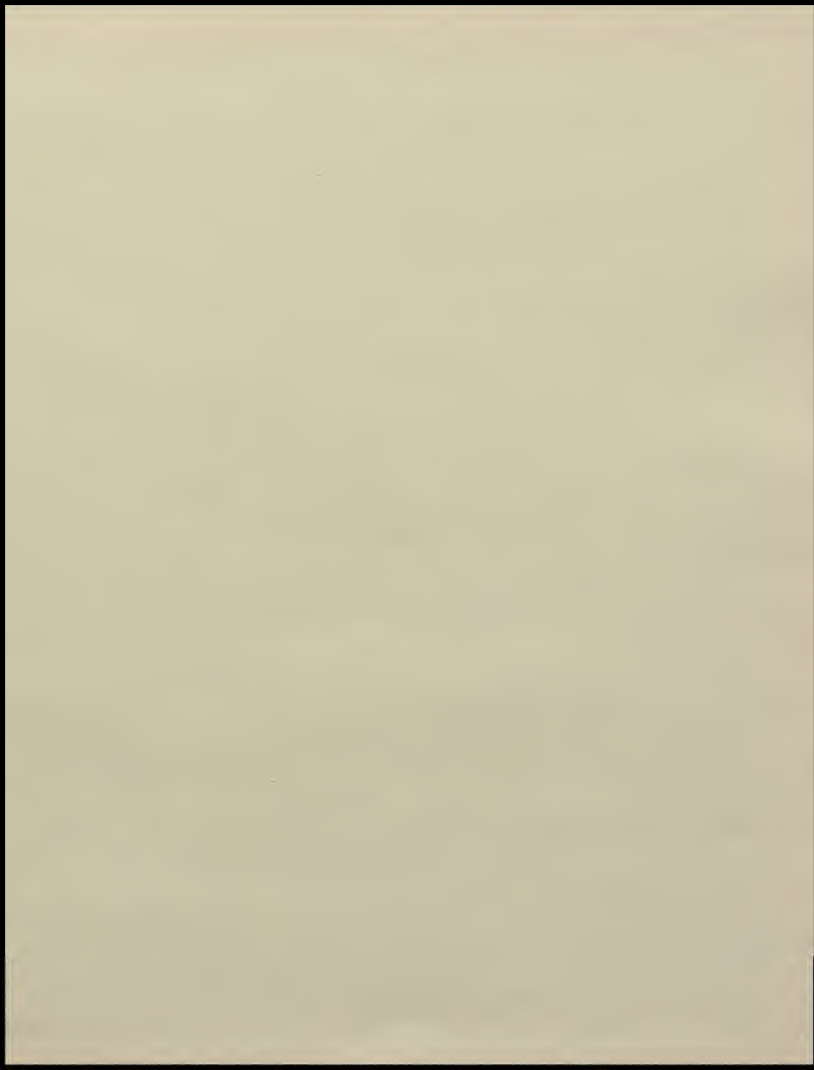

I hope "The Cover Story" will be something you treasure over the years and look back to from time to time as a pictorial account of one of your high school years.
